

Our institutions work hard to make college affordable.

AICUP schools provide 90% of all financial aid grants first-year students receive. Average net tuition (what families actually pay) has increased only $70 a year since the Great Recession (2007-2008), less than one half percent.

Net Tuition (what families actually pay) Virtually Unchanged

AICUP schools provide financial aid to students and control costs to consistently keep net tuition and fees low.
